

Oesophageal dilatation aftercare advice

Today you have had an oesophageal dilatation– a stretch of your gullet. You are unlikely to have any serious side effects but please be aware of the following information and advice.

What to expect after your procedure

- You may feel drowsy for several hours.
- Your throat may feel slightly sore for a few hours.
- You may feel a little bloated if some air used in the procedure has been left inside. These things will pass and there is no need for any medication.
- You must NOT operate machinery, drink alcohol or sign any legal documentation until the next day. You must not drive for 24 hours.
- You may eat and drink normally two hours following the procedure.

Serious side effects from this procedure are very uncommon. However, if you have any problems with:

- A persistent sore throat
- Worsening chest pain or
- Abdominal pain

Please contact your GP immediately, informing them that you had an oesophageal dilatation.
